HAVE YOU EVER BEEN OVERWHELMED BY THE GOSPEL?

Perhaps this diocesan-wide retreat will lead you there. Over the course of six weeks – beginning with the Solemnity of Christ the King (Nov. 24), followed by the four weeks of Advent and Christmas (Dec. 25), Bishop Gruss has asked the priests of the diocese to provide their parishioners the opportunity to experience the Gospel in a new way. Through their Sunday homily, parishioners will better understand where Jesus is leading the Diocese, beginning with a new proclamation of the Gospel through the lens of a "Biblical Worldview" (the Kerygma) by way of these four key words --- Created, Captured, Rescued and Response.

"I have a deep conviction that God wants to do something far greater than we can imagine in the Diocese of Saginaw. This retreat is only the beginning. If fully engaged, it will lead to an unshakeable confidence in the Lordship of Jesus. We will want to live our lives surrendered in prayer and humility to the working of the Holy Spirit. I invite each of you in your parishes to join me for this retreat opportunity. These are important times for all of us. You were born for this!"

- Most Rev. Robert D. Gruss, Bishop

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOSPEL MESSAGE IS

CREATED

Why is there something rather than nothing?

CAPTURED

Why is everything so messed up?

RESCUED

What, if anything, has God done about it?

RESPONSE

And if he's done anything, how should I respond?

Rachel's Vineyard Retreat

The pain, shame, guilt, and betrayal of abortion runs deep and wide, but the unconditional love, mercy, and forgiveness of God is available to all who seek Him. Anyone who has been impacted by abortion is invited to attend a retreat. Contact Beth at toheal4give@outlook.com or call 734.879.0427. Below are the upcoming retreat dates: February 28 – March 2, 2025

Pro-life T-shirt Design Contest

Winning designer is awarded $200. Open to all teens. The design submission deadline is February 10, 2025. Email designs to rtlsanilac@gmail.com

The Diocesan Mission Statement is OUR Mission Statement

Bishop Gruss wants us to memorize our new diocesan mission statement:

"To courageously proclaim the transforming power of the gospel so that Christ Jesus may lead people to salvation through his healing, love and mercy."

Right to Life-Upcoming House Bills

Please contact your legislators, Senator Dan Lauwers and Rep. Greg Alexander, to vote No on these 2 bills. House Bill (HB) 6068 will allow sex education classes to teach children where and how to obtain an abortion. and will require teaching about sexual orientation, gender expression, and various gender relationships. HB 6077 and Senate Bill 1082 would seek to limit choices presented to a woman experiencing an unplanned pregnancy, so abortion seems the only option. It will take you less than five minutes to accomplish this. Go to RTL.org and select Contact Your Legislator under the Get Involved heading.

“Life with Christ is a wonderful adventure”

(Pope St. John Paul II)

Our Mission: to cooperate with Christ in saving souls; to sabotage the “kingdom of darkness” (Col 1:13)

Our Weapons: evangelization, testimonies, prayer, offered-up sufferings, Mass, Confession, Scripture, forgiveness, etc.

Statue of Our Lady of Grace donated to our parish by the Lowman Family. May the Lord reward them for their generosity! Lynn Lowman wants me to remind you of what Mary asks us to do in all apparitions: to pray the rosary DAILY for peace!!

Blessed Advent!

Dear Disciple on Mission (see “Mission” above), One of the best ways to celebrate Advent is to fast. Advent is a penitential season like Lent, but less so. In the Didache, a document from the first century, we see the first Christians fasting on Wednesdays and Fridays.

This Advent, consider some kind of fast/self-denial (from social media, snacks, sweets, skip a meal or eat less, condiments, salt and pepper, TV, getting the last word, etc.) for at least these two days each week, if not the entire Advent! Fasting makes our heart BIGGER, like the Grinch’s, to receive MORE love from God this Christmas! First we fast, then we feast. Offer your fast for a certain intention by praying, “Jesus, this is for souls, for the conversion of X, for an end to war, etc.”

Another way to start Advent is to meditate on this reflection by Sister Marie Veritas, SV (Sisters of Life based in NYC):

“We can often be tempted to measure our worth by how useful we are or how we feel about ourselves. And when we fail or we feel poorly, we become overwhelmed with discouragement. But our achievements, emotions, and thoughts about ourselves, as subjective and transitory realities, do not determine our worth. Your identity is grounded in the firmness of eternal Love, Who never stops speaking over you the truth, “You are very good” (cf. Gen 1:31). He doesn’t measure your worth; He Who gives Himself to you on the Cross and in the Eucharist is the measure of your worth.

“You are the goal of God’s Heart. “God, infinitely perfect and blessed in Himself, in a plan of sheer goodness, freely created man to make him share in His own blessed life” (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 1). God did not create you in order to use you, for He is totally sufficient in Himself. He created you out of love as a unique and unrepeatable reflection of His glory, simply because He desires you to be filled with His love and to seek, praise, know, and love Him. He takes joy in you - you, specifically. And He came to save you out of love. You are the reason the Second Person of the Holy Trinity became man, walked the hills of Galilee, preached, healed, was crucified, died, rose, and stays with you in His Spirit. Intentionally and carefully fashioned in His image, you are not just Important to His Heart; you are an icon of Him Who is.

“The human person is not made to be used. Use is proper to an object: I play music on a violin, or swim in a pool, or enjoy chocolate cake. It’s right to use things. But as a living image of the living God, a person is never to be used as a means to an end. You are an end in yourself, You’re not just something; you’re someone, with your own free will and destiny. Not even God uses you to gain an end. He so reverences your dignity and freedom that He invites and proposes, but He never forces or imposes. When the saints speak of God using them, what they mean is that they have freely given God permission to involve their hearts, minds, bodies, circumstances, strengths, weakness, victories, and even their sins and setbacks in His marvelous designs.

"God wants a free response to His love, because love, as the "unification of persons" and willing the good of the other, never comes at the expense of someone else (Karol Wojtyla, Love and Responsibility). The ultimate good of the other means the flourishing of the person - body, mind, and soul. I'm not loving someone if I'm using or leading him or her to sin, even if it is pleasurable or productive. "The value of the person is always greater than the value of pleasure" (ibid.).

"Use hurts everyone involved. Use binds us to someone as property, which is below our dignity. 'If I treat someone else as a means and a tool in relation to myself I cannot help regarding myself in the same light' (ibid.). The only proper response to you is love; anything less is not worthy of you. We can spend our whole lives racing around ourselves trying to find ourselves, when Jesus invites us: 'Let yourself be found. Let Me show you who you are. Let Me show you the love for which you're made and the love you are capable of giving.' We are not His slaves, but His beloved sons and daughters. Let's live free. Let's allow ourselves to be loved and to love with His love."

Do we want Good Shepherd to become known as a WELCOMING PARISH?

Bishop's vision is that every parish develops "radical hospitality." Visitors and young families with kids must feel welcome at Mass and encounter Christ in us by how we speak to them and look at them. A few times, after families with young children have joined us for Mass, they have told me they felt not welcomed by the way some people looked at them or treated them, especially if their kids were loud. Isn't that heartbreaking? I offer everyone, including myself, these thoughts: If you see a parent with a loud child:

- pray for the parents
- introduce yourself to them and ask where they're from, etc.
- thank them for bringing their kids to Mass
- if you once brought children to Mass,

encourage them by telling them you know what it's like to bring children to Mass!

-avoid giving advice

For any visitor, introduce yourself to them, invite them to an upcoming community or parish event, etc. Eventually, the Holy Spirit may lead you to ask them out to brunch or invite them to your home for a meal!

Poem to encourage you, by Yours Truly:

My Achilles Is A-Killin' Me

My Achilles is really a-killin' me
And my heel just won't heal, what the heck!
My stiff neck's a real pain in the butt... but there's more
My sore butt's a real pain in the neck
(Since the day I survived that big wreck!)

I can't stomach this unstoppable stomachache
Struck with gout I wanna pout all alone
And I sigh when sciatic pain shocks me awake
Diagnosed with Pneumonia, I moan
(Sick at home, I'm bored sick of my phone!)

Pins and needles! My knees need a healing
Since my heart's out of sync, I lose heart
Got more docs than my clock could have time for! I'm feeling
Quite dazed as my days fall apart
(Might these meds make me sooner depart?)

Does the Lord hear me sleeplessly weeping?
My appealing for healing in full?
Someone whispered,
I feel it all with you, Beloved
And I will heal as is best for your soul
Through these trials, My Child, I uphold you
And remold you to the image of Love
Fear no harm! In my Arms, I enfold you
I've got everything under control

("For this light momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, as we look not to the things that are seen but to the things that are unseen. For the things that are seen are transient, but the things that are unseen are eternal."

-2 Cor 4:17-18 ESV)
